

Jai and Joy Luster Co-Founded the Luster Learning Institute, NFP and the Calm Classroom program in 2007. They continue to serve as directors and leaders of the organization. Jai and Joy's background in mindfulness, yoga and decades of experience in organizational leadership led Jai and his wife Joy to develop the Luster Learning Institute and its Calm Classroom program in 2007. Their intention was to share the many psychological, physiological and social benefits that can be derived from a steady practice of mindfulness with the public school students and teachers of the United States. Jai has publicly taught mindfulness and yoga since 1976. In addition, Jai was the Co-Founder of Mesirow Advanced Strategies Inc. and Executive Vice President of its parent, Mesirow Financial Holdings Inc. Jai has spoken at numerous conferences on non-traditional investing and asset allocation and was a recognized leader in the hedge fund business for over 25 years until his retirement in 2001. Joy has over 25 years of background as an expert in the area of health and wellness. She owns a fitness franchise and holds certifications in Yoga and Massage Therapy. Joy has a personal interest in self-awareness and has been thrilled to share this understanding with thousands of adults and children since Calm Classroom's inception.

Jori Griffith is Jori Griffith is the Program Operations Director for Luster Learning Institute NFP. She is a founding employee and has been with the organization since 2009. Jori attended the Deerfield Public Schools, and went on to receive a double major in Sociology and Communications from Augustana College. She later attended Northwestern University for her Masters in Communication. Jori is the mother of 3-year old, Thea Rose and her youngest baby Liv Griffith. She and her husband, Ryan love to teach Thea how to be still and practice mindfulness - what a stunning sight to see! Thea is the granddaughter of Co-Founders, Joy and Jai Luster. Jori is grateful and humbled for the opportunity to share this beautiful work with her family each day.

Gail Sturm is a founding Executive Board Member since 2007, Director of Strategy , and currently serves as Board Chairman of the Luster Learning Institute NFP which has developed the Calm Classroom Mindfulness Program. Gail enjoys teaching Yoga.

She is also an Executive Board Member of Athletes Against Drugs, Chairman of Brushwood Center at Ryerson Woods, Former Vice Chairman of Lake Forest Symphony, Advisory Board Member of Arzu , Resource Board Member of the Metropolitan Planning Council of Chicago and Board Member of the Transportation Management Association of Lake Cook. In addition, Ms. Sturm is actively involved with the Economic Club of Chicago and the Chicago Theological Seminary Visiting Committee.

As Executive Vice President of ProTen Realty Group, Gail Sturm specializes in professional portfolio advisory services, build-to-suit, brokerage, and consulting and representation for the real estate needs of corporate clients. In her professional career as a commercial and industrial real estate leader with more than $3.5 billion in sales and leases completed during her 39 year career, Gail continues to explore new ways to increase productivity driving profitability for her clients.

Previously, Ms. Sturm was President of a National Real Estate firm. While there, she was instrumental in shaping the company's structure and developing its philosophies. She held several executive positions with esteemed real estate companies representing ownership's interests giving her an added perspective to closing the deal. She is often quoted "real estate is about people" and yes location".

As the first women to be elected as President of COLBA, the first women to be hired as an industrial broker at Rubloff and a founding member of Chicago CREW, Gail is a trail blazer.

Ms. Sturm is a member of the Rocky Mountain Institute and its "Green Development Services." She co-authored

"Seeing the Light," an article illustrating the impact of new lighting opportunities on lowering energy cost to tenants. She was a featured speaker at the 2003 Annual Crew Network Convention in San Francisco,

"Energy & Real Estate – Adding Value in a Changing Market Place." In addition, in 2007 she served as the moderator of a panel discussion on Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design regarding neighborhood development (LEED-ND).

Education and awards: BBA (Marketing/Management), St. Mary's College of Notre Dame; Licensed real estate broker in Illinois and Colorado; Paul Harris Fellow, Rotary International